

PAROLEE MAN HITS SALOON ROBBERY

Seven Thirsty Thieves Escape In Truck, Although Bullet Punctures Tire

"LOOKOUTS" GIVE WARNING

Seven thirsty thieves were driven away from Michael P. Feagan's saloon at the northwest corner of East Chelten avenue and Baynton street, at 4 o'clock this morning, by Patrolmen Harkens, who exchanged shots with them and punctured a tire of the big car in which they escaped.

Harkens ran after the car, firing as he ran. He could not see that there were six men in the machine besides the driver, but it was too dark and the car was moving too fast for him to get a good look at their faces.

The men in the touring car tried to drive the patrolman off with pistol fire, but he stood his ground with shots flying all around him, and took careful aim at one of the rear tires. Almost simultaneously with the flash and report from his pistol, came an answering roar as the tire burst, punctured and ripped by the bullet.

The big car wheeled sharply across the street, the rear wheels swerving side-wise and narrowly escaped coming to a stop against the curb.

The driver threw the wheel over desperately, and stepped on the accelerator. The car came out of the skid, gathered momentum again and sped on its flapping mad way. Harkens emptied his pistol, but without further effect, as the car was too far away.

Harkens found the thieves had broken a window and entered the bar, which they ransacked.

"They found nothing," said the proprietor later. "I don't know why they pick on me, but they are trying to get me. This is the second attempt in six weeks."

NABBED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Two Men Accused of Transporting Whisky Under Guise of Soda

On a charge of transporting liquor under the guise of soda water, Berney Greenberg, twenty years old, South street near Tenth, and Joseph Dobshahn, thirty-two years old, Narrows street near York, were arrested at 8 o'clock last night by Patrolmen Kelly and Weiss, of the Belgrade and Clearfield streets station, after the men had stopped on Aramingo street near Madison.

According to the police, the men have been selling moonshine whisky for $2.50 a quart and are trying to bring it to the northeastern section of the city for some time.

When the men drove up Aramingo street in a small truck, the two patrolmen became suspicious and stopped the car. Investigation showed that the men had four quarts of whisky concealed among empty soda bottles.

Commissioner Long was notified and came to the Belgrade and Clearfield streets station, where he held the men in $500 bail each for a further hearing this afternoon at the city hall.

ACCUSED POLICE MOVED

Man Fined for Part in Whisky Scandal Are Transferred

Two policemen involved in the "whisky" scandal of the Eighth and Jefferson streets station were transferred yesterday by Director Cortelyou. They are Charles E. Drennan and Charles J. Drennan. Drennan was engaged as a mechanic for Director Cortelyou, was sent to the motorcycle squad, Tenth and Thompson streets, and Scheer was detailed to the reserve squad at City Hall.

Both men have been fined thirty days' pay as punishment for their part in the whisky scandal, which on Wednesday resulted in the dismissal of the Lieutenant Burke and Patrolmen Casey and Whalen.

Announcement was made last night by Director Cortelyou that he had decided to hunt out every police official and patrolman in the city who have been reported engaged in the extensive "bootlegging" trade and have them dismissed at once.

HORSE BOLTS, DRIVER DIES

Teamster Knocked Down, but Is Unscratched—Weak Heart Blamed

Abe Kleinfeld, 156 Carleton street, a teamster, died in the Roosevelt hospital today a short time after he was knocked down by a horse bolted from a harness. Although physicians were not able to find a scratch on his body, the physicians believe his heart was weak.

Kleinfeld was residing at No. 12, North Wharves, at 7:15 o'clock this morning. He was to get a load of bananas there. The horse slipped from his harness and he was adjusting it to a motortruck passed.

The horse became frightened and bolted, throwing Kleinfeld under the wagon, although the wheels did not touch him, and he was unconscious when picked up. The runaway was stopped at Arch street by Patrolman Stuckert, of the Fourth and Race streets station.

Kleinfeld is survived by a widow and six children, the oldest sixteen years old and the youngest eighteen months old. Kleinfeld was forty-eight years old.

ROAD WORK FINISHED

Old York Road Stretch at Willow Grove Finally Done

'91 CLASS OF PENN HAS 30TH REUNION

Old 'Grads' of College Department Gather From All Points at Philmont Country Club

MORE EVENTS TOMORROW

"Old boys" of the Class of '91, College, University of Pennsylvania, are holding their thirtieth annual reunion today and tomorrow in this city.

In spite of the thirty years that have elapsed since the class first met to talk over old times, there is one of the largest attendances in the class history. One man, in fact, came from Porto Rico for the event, and others came from the four points of the compass.

The members of the class gathered in the courtroom of Judge William Gray Knowles, of the Municipal Court, at 11 o'clock this morning, and at 11:30 the classmates motored to the Philmont Country Club, where the day will be spent. There was luncheon at 1 o'clock, golf at 2 and dinner will be served at 6:30.

Following dinner will be an entertainment staged by Jules E. Mastbaum, president of the Stanley Co. of America, a member of the class.

Tomorrow will be a still bigger day. To begin with the members of the class will gather at the "Phi Kappa Sigma" fraternal house, 3239 Locust street, for luncheon at 12:30. Use of the house has been tendered the men throughout the day.

The class program in the quadrangle at 2 o'clock, led by the Klitite Band. The "uniform" will be dark coat, white trousers, straw hat and white shoes. There will be a parade to the quadrangle for a performance by undergraduates, followed by a collation in the triangle at 6:30 P. M., and at 7:30 o'clock a performance by the combined musical clubs and the Mask and Wig Club in the triangle.

Members of the class present are Percival R. Bailey, from Washington, D. C.; Lloyd C. Dickinson, former ambassador to Italy and Japan; Francis A. Head, of New York.

Dr. John Hemmatt, of Newark, N. J.; Arthur E. Hill, treasurer of the Atlantic Refining Co.; Dr. Irving C. Hollingshead, Philip E. Howard, editor of the Sunday School Times, and Wallace H. Kuepfer, of Allentown, Pa.; E. H. Hultine, of St. Paul, Minn.; Kapp, of New York; Chester H. Kirk, of Helena, Mont.; Judge William Gray Knowles, of the municipal court; Burton Landreth, Jr., of Erie, Pa.; Frederick Leser, of Porto Rico; Dr. George F. Levan, Alfred Iveright, District Attorney, of Clearfield County; Arthur A. Loeb, of Clearfield; Wm. Long, William McAdoo, Jr., of New York; David Mandel, Jr., Mr. Mastbaum, John H. Maurer, Assistant District Attorney, of Erie, Pa.; Frederick K. Meares, Frederick R. Meigs, John C. Ogden, of Johnston, Pa.; Joseph G. Patterson, Bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Altoona; W. W. Pinkerton, H. E. Platt, B. S. Rex, William B. Rosskam, Prof. E. A. Siumway, of the University of Pennsylvania; Henry H. Sinnaman, of Philadelphia; James Starbuck, B. Taylor, James H. Terry, Joseph R. Thomas, Louis De Puy Vail, James M. West, Prof. Cornelius Weygant, University of Pennsylvania, of Harrisburg; Churchill Williams, of the Saturday Evening Post; H. C. Wood and J. Charles Ziegler, secretary of the class.

JURY OUT IN JEFFERY CASE

Labor Official May Know Fate Today in Libel Suit

The trial of Harry S. Jeffery, 807 South Fifth-seventh street, chairman of the advisory board of the local Federation of Pennsylvania System Lines, charged with criminal libel against Reuben R. Phenezer, Oscar L. Staples and James A. Muzat, engine-houses near Market street, was concluded today before Judge Stern in Quarter Sessions Court, No. 2. The jury is deliberating.

The alleged libel charges against the three employees of the railroad were contained in a letter written by Jeffery in his official capacity to J. B. Diven, master mechanic of the railroad, giving information to the company not only regarding the work of the three men, but also as to their private lives.

Phenezer and Staples were charged with having violated the Mann Act and Muzat desecrating the American flag. The three foremen emphatically denied the charges, and the men, and particularly Davis, had been abusive and insulting in soliciting alms. Magistrate Price fined Davis $5.00 and severely reprimanded both men. The headquarters of the American Rescue Workers denied today that there were any collectors of either name employed there.

"COLLECTORS" FINED

Woman Complains of Men Claiming to Be Rescue Workers

Two men claiming to be American Rescue Workers were arrested by Patrolman Dougherty, of the Manayunk police station, yesterday for disorderly conduct. They gave their names as Benjamin Davis, twenty-nine years old, 2632 Ridge avenue, and John Morris, twenty-nine years old, 448 Gie street, Philadelphia. Morris, 448 Gie street, appeared against the men this morning before Magistrate Price in the Manayunk police station. The men, and particularly Davis, had been abusive and insulting in soliciting alms. Magistrate Price fined Davis $5.00 and severely reprimanded both men. The headquarters of the American Rescue Workers denied today that there were any collectors of either name employed there.

7 Graduate at Nockamixon High

Seven graduates of the Nockamixon High School were awarded their diplomas at the 1921 commencement, by an address by Dr. A. B. Van Orner, of Juniata College. The graduates were Miss Sara Marzetta, Miss Elizabeth Messer Rife, Miss Sadie Hilda Good, Miss Edith Mae Bean, Miss Mabel Marie Kelsor, Miss Miriam Moyer and Raymond Kohl. The diplomas were presented by Dr. E. L. Morris, president of the Board of Education, Nockamixon School District.

Deaths of a Day

Samuel B. Goff

Samuel B. Goff, pioneer maker of herb medicines in Camden and wealthy real estate owner, died in his eightieth year today in summer home at Pitman, N. J. He had been ill three months, suffering with the infirmities of old age.

Goff was born at East Creek, N. J., and until he was twenty-two years old worked on a farm. Then he decided to capitalize on his herb remedy which had been in his family for twenty years. He started at Cape May, then came to Camden, where he sold his wares from a wagon, and at length opened a factory near Second and Bridge avenues, selling it later to the Pennsylvania Railroad. As senior partner in the firm of S. B. Goff & Sons he became wealthy. For many years he spent his summers in Pitman and his winters in Florida. He built the Pitman Hotel.

Goff was a staunch champion of prohibition, and it was his ambition to live long enough to see tobacco similarly outlawed.

He is survived by his widow and two sons, the Rev. S. B. Goff, of Philadelphia, the other, Leon Goff, who runs the factory.

Gabriel I. Maguire

Gabriel I. Maguire, who for the last thirty years has been chief clerk in the office of division passenger agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Philadelphia, died yesterday in the Cooper Hospital, Camden, where he had undergone an operation, a several weeks.

STEPPING A FOX-TROT

Confident of Early Return to South America, Where Big Fortune is Invested

SPENT $50,000 IN BRIBES

"I never harmed a man in my life—knowingly or willfully—but I have done many favors for hundreds of big men. I'm going to give those I favored in the past a chance to do something for me now."

This statement was made by Dr. William H. Bricker, the convicted malpractitioner, who was brought back from South America, yesterday, just before the doors of the Eastern Penitentiary closed behind him at 11:30 o'clock last night. He went into the prison to begin a four-year sentence for a charge of malpractice which caused the death of a young girl.

Bricker arrived in this city after an automobile trip from New York, where he was "kidnapped" on the ship that brought him from South America by Major Samuel O. Wynne, head of the county detective force. This morning he was allowed to see the friends of Bricker's friends to hold him in New York on a writ of habeas corpus.

Arriving here the party, made up of Major Wynne, District Chief James J. Fred C. Voigt, who brought him back from Paraguay, Assistant District Attorney Charles E. Fox, Dr. Bricker and a group before newspapermen stopped at a restaurant near the Roosevelt boulevard and had a hearty meal. Here the doctor allowed to see the friends of Bricker's friends to hold him in New York on a writ of habeas corpus.

After he had finished a meal of soft-shelled crabs and steak, Dr. Bricker started to talk freely.

"Fortune invested in South America," Dr. Bricker said, "because they were hounding me to death. I'm a well-served man of fifty-seven years, and have always taken excellent care of my health. Even if I have to do the four years of my sentence, in the event that my friends do not come to my rescue, I firmly believe that I will be able to undergo such a confinement, and come out and take up where I left off the large business interests that I am connected with in South America."

Dr. Bricker said that he had been in Philadelphia virtually all his life. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Society of Colonial Dames, at her Chester home. She gave some time to the invited male guests, and was snapped as she danced on the lawn with Colonel Charles H. Paine.

Adjectives Too Strong

Maybe, Sims Admits

Continued from Page One

He would reply today to Secretary Denby's request to inform the American naval department as to his remarks. The admiral added he would not make public his reply.

Admiral Sims did not seem perturbed by reports that the United States Senate was calling for an investigation of his speech, but expressed curiosity as to when the senatorial inquiry would be made.

"I am returning on the Olympic, June 15," he said. "I don't suppose I could both a reply to the Senate and a speech to the public. I have a voluminous correspondence, which averages about seventy letters per day, from friends in England."

Washington, June 10.—(By A. P.)—Secretary Denby said today, before entering the Cabinet meeting, that he did not plan to bring to the attention of the President or the Cabinet the speech of Read Admiral Sims at London, in which the admiral attacked Irish sympathizers in the United States. The Secretary said the matter was one he could handle himself without bothering his President.

Mr. Denby has not yet received a reply to his cablegram to Admiral Sims, Belcherists starting in Sweden, who will be arrested and expelled from the country, it is said.

The records of the Stockholm police show the arrest of five Finlanders, former members of the Finnish "Red Guard," and one Swede in connection with the movement.

FIRE BRIGADE DRILL

The fire brigade of the George W. Blahon Co. held its first drill of the annual competition series at the Nicetown Works. The competition consisted of laying and coupling 100-foot lengths of hose, then turning on the water at 100 pounds pressure, and knocking down a 10-foot foreign flag. The results are as follows: No. 1 Company, 1m. 58s.; 5 points; No. 2 Company, 1m. 58s.; 5 points; No. 3 Company, 2m. 41s.; 2 points.

NO TRACE OF MISSING GIRL

Left Home in Lansdowne Thursday Afternoon

No trace has been found of Margaret Lope, pretty brunette who left her home, 103 North Union street, yesterday in a motortruck after leaving a note for her sister, Eva, saying Lope was last seen boarding a motortruck for this city on the afternoon she left her home.

According to the girl's sister, Margaret has been suffering from violent headaches for some time, and a remark she would be better off if dead. As a result, it is feared the girl may have taken her life.

A missing girl who is twenty years old, wore a turban hat with a dotted veil, a tan polo coat over a blue satin dress, and tan shoes and stockings. She had in other clothing with her and only a dollar in cash.

TODAY'S MARRIAGE LICENSES

Frank Gerofano, 1929 Latimer st., and Theresa Ryan, same address.

Martha E. Simpson, 515 W. 4th st., and Richard E. Simpson, 415 W. 4th st.

John E. Kelly, 2920 N. 27th st., and Edna J. Kelly, 2920 N. 27th st.

DR. BRICKER IN JAIL LOOKS TO FRIENDS

Confident of Early Return to South America, Where Big Fortune is Invested

SPENT $50,000 IN BRIBES

"I never harmed a man in my life—knowingly or willfully—but I have done many favors for hundreds of big men. I'm going to give those I favored in the past a chance to do something for me now."

This statement was made by Dr. William H. Bricker, the convicted malpractitioner, who was brought back from South America, yesterday, just before the doors of the Eastern Penitentiary closed behind him at 11:30 o'clock last night. He went into the prison to begin a four-year sentence for a charge of malpractice which caused the death of a young girl.

Bricker arrived in this city after an automobile trip from New York, where he was "kidnapped" on the ship that brought him from South America by Major Samuel O. Wynne, head of the county detective force. This morning he was allowed to see the friends of Bricker's friends to hold him in New York on a writ of habeas corpus.

Arriving here the party, made up of Major Wynne, District Chief James J. Fred C. Voigt, who brought him back from Paraguay, Assistant District Attorney Charles E. Fox, Dr. Bricker and a group before newspapermen stopped at a restaurant near the Roosevelt boulevard and had a hearty meal. Here the doctor allowed to see the friends of Bricker's friends to hold him in New York on a writ of habeas corpus.

After he had finished a meal of soft-shelled crabs and steak, Dr. Bricker started to talk freely.

"Fortune invested in South America," Dr. Bricker said, "because they were hounding me to death. I'm a well-served man of fifty-seven years, and have always taken excellent care of my health. Even if I have to do the four years of my sentence, in the event that my friends do not come to my rescue, I firmly believe that I will be able to undergo such a confinement, and come out and take up where I left off the large business interests that I am connected with in South America."

Dr. Bricker said that he had been in Philadelphia virtually all his life. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Society of Colonial Dames, at her Chester home. She gave some time to the invited male guests, and was snapped as she danced on the lawn with Colonel Charles H. Paine.

Druggists Will Fight U. S. Restrictions

Speaker Terms Rulings "Foolish" and Getting Worse, Not Better

Pharmacists of the country are organizing to fight what they term foolish restrictions imposed by Congress, according to speakers today at the convention of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

Dr. C. C. Hill, of Washington, D. C., president of the American Pharmaceutical Association, said: "No more foolish restrictions are in the pharmaceutical profession. If we do not get together we will have more restrictions imposed, and matters will become worse instead of better. No one knows where the restrictions are going to end. I pledge my aid toward the establishment in Washington of national headquarters for the drug industry can be watched and our interests protected."

It was reported by the Prohibition Enforcement committee that druggists' permits had been revoked during the last year by prohibition enforcement authorities in only five cases, and one of those was a saloonkeeper misreading as a druggist. This was declared to be a most excellent showing.

Officers elected were: President, Joseph C. Hill, of Philadelphia; first vice president, F. J. Blumenschein, of Pittsburgh; second vice president, E. J. C. Grolman, Butler; secretary, W. H. E. Gleim, Lebanon.

W. J. Sturgeon, retiring president, goes on the executive committee for three years.

MUSTN'T EXCHANGE WIVES

Mosaic Law Cited by Indiana Judge Refusing Divorce Pleas

Anderson, Ind., June 10.—The plan of William Muncy and Gorman Huffman, steel mill employes and neighbors here, to exchange wives may be thwarted by the fundamental basic law in the Ten Commandments of the Bible.

Judge Kittinger, of the Circuit Court, handed down a decision yesterday which may shatter one of the most unusual romances ever reported in Indiana.

"Love thy neighbor as thyself—but stay away from his wife," was the version of the Bible law quoted by Judge Kittinger, when he announced that he would not try the suits for divorce brought by the two wives.

FOR POSTAL CIVIL SERVICE

Bill in Senate Proposes Reclassification and Other Changes

Washington, June 10.—(By A. P.)—A bill to place first, second and third-class postmasters under the Civil Service and after competitive examinations to have them hold their offices "without term" was introduced today by Chairman Townsend, of the Senate Postoffice Committee.

The bill would authorize the Postmaster General, by direction of the President, to reclassify the postoffice positions and would repeal the law requiring Senate confirmation of appointments.

June 14 Is Flag Day

The patriotic hearts of American men and women beat quicker at the sight of the stars and stripes than any other flag that flies from our homes.

"Let's Keep the Gloom Old Glory" It's only a short time we will celebrate Flag Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, also Home Coming Day, and many other days during the year. While in South America to avoid extradition, in addition to this, the furnished:

Size 3x5 feet.....$.98
Size 4x6 feet.....$ 1.19
Size 5x8 feet.....$ 1.49
Parcel Post 20 cents Extra.
Mail orders promptly attended to accompanied by mail order.

DR. BRICKER IN JAIL LOOKS TO FRIENDS

Confident of Early Return to South America, Where Big Fortune is Invested

SPENT $50,000 IN BRIBES

"I never harmed a man in my life—knowingly or willfully—but I have done many favors for hundreds of big men. I'm going to give those I favored in the past a chance to do something for me now."

This statement was made by Dr. William H. Bricker, the convicted malpractitioner, who was brought back from South America, yesterday, just before the doors of the Eastern Penitentiary closed behind him at 11:30 o'clock last night. He went into the prison to begin a four-year sentence for a charge of malpractice which caused the death of a young girl.

Bricker arrived in this city after an automobile trip from New York, where he was "kidnapped" on the ship that brought him from South America by Major Samuel O. Wynne, head of the county detective force. This morning he was allowed to see the friends of Bricker's friends to hold him in New York on a writ of habeas corpus.

Arriving here the party, made up of Major Wynne, District Chief James J. Fred C. Voigt, who brought him back from Paraguay, Assistant District Attorney Charles E. Fox, Dr. Bricker and a group before newspapermen stopped at a restaurant near the Roosevelt boulevard and had a hearty meal. Here the doctor allowed to see the friends of Bricker's friends to hold him in New York on a writ of habeas corpus.

After he had finished a meal of soft-shelled crabs and steak, Dr. Bricker started to talk freely.

"Fortune invested in South America," Dr. Bricker said, "because they were hounding me to death. I'm a well-served man of fifty-seven years, and have always taken excellent care of my health. Even if I have to do the four years of my sentence, in the event that my friends do not come to my rescue, I firmly believe that I will be able to undergo such a confinement, and come out and take up where I left off the large business interests that I am connected with in South America."

Dr. Bricker said that he had been in Philadelphia virtually all his life. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Society of Colonial Dames, at her Chester home. She gave some time to the invited male guests, and was snapped as she danced on the lawn with Colonel Charles H. Paine.

Adjectives Too Strong

Maybe, Sims Admits

Continued from Page One

He would reply today to Secretary Denby's request to inform the American naval department as to his remarks. The admiral added he would not make public his reply.

Admiral Sims did not seem perturbed by reports that the United States Senate was calling for an investigation of his speech, but expressed curiosity as to when the senatorial inquiry would be made.

"I am returning on the Olympic, June 15," he said. "I don't suppose I could both a reply to the Senate and a speech to the public. I have a voluminous correspondence, which averages about seventy letters per day, from friends in England."

Washington, June 10.—(By A. P.)—Secretary Denby said today, before entering the Cabinet meeting, that he did not plan to bring to the attention of the President or the Cabinet the speech of Read Admiral Sims at London, in which the admiral attacked Irish sympathizers in the United States. The Secretary said the matter was one he could handle himself without bothering his President.

Mr. Denby has not yet received a reply to his cablegram to Admiral Sims, Belcherists starting in Sweden, who will be arrested and expelled from the country, it is said.

The records of the Stockholm police show the arrest of five Finlanders, former members of the Finnish "Red Guard," and one Swede in connection with the movement.

FIRE BRIGADE DRILL

The fire brigade of the George W. Blahon Co. held its first drill of the annual competition series at the Nicetown Works. The competition consisted of laying and coupling 100-foot lengths of hose, then turning on the water at 100 pounds pressure, and knocking down a 10-foot foreign flag. The results are as follows: No. 1 Company, 1m. 58s.; 5 points; No. 2 Company, 1m. 58s.; 5 points; No. 3 Company, 2m. 41s.; 2 points.

NO TRACE OF MISSING GIRL

Left Home in Lansdowne Thursday Afternoon

No trace has been found of Margaret Lope, pretty brunette who left her home, 103 North Union street, yesterday in a motortruck after leaving a note for her sister, Eva, saying Lope was last seen boarding a motortruck for this city on the afternoon she left her home.

According to the girl's sister, Margaret has been suffering from violent headaches for some time, and a remark she would be better off if dead. As a result, it is feared the girl may have taken her life.

A missing girl who is twenty years old, wore a turban hat with a dotted veil, a tan polo coat over a blue satin dress, and tan shoes and stockings. She had in other clothing with her and only a dollar in cash.

TODAY'S MARRIAGE LICENSES

Frank Gerofano, 1929 Latimer st., and Theresa Ryan, same address.

Martha E. Simpson, 515 W. 4th st., and Richard E. Simpson, 415 W. 4th st.

John E. Kelly, 2920 N. 27th st., and Edna J. Kelly, 2920 N. 27th st.

DR. BRICKER IN JAIL LOOKS TO FRIENDS

Confident of Early Return to South America, Where Big Fortune is Invested

SPENT $50,000 IN BRIBES

"I never harmed a man in my life—knowingly or willfully—but I have done many favors for hundreds of big men. I'm going to give those I favored in the past a chance to do something for me now."

This statement was made by Dr. William H. Bricker, the convicted malpractitioner, who was brought back from South America, yesterday, just before the doors of the Eastern Penitentiary closed behind him at 11:30 o'clock last night. He went into the prison to begin a four-year sentence for a charge of malpractice which caused the death of a young girl.

Bricker arrived in this city after an automobile trip from New York, where he was "kidnapped" on the ship that brought him from South America by Major Samuel O. Wynne, head of the county detective force. This morning he was allowed to see the friends of Bricker's friends to hold him in New York on a writ of habeas corpus.

Arriving here the party, made up of Major Wynne, District Chief James J. Fred C. Voigt, who brought him back from Paraguay, Assistant District Attorney Charles E. Fox, Dr. Bricker and a group before newspapermen stopped at a restaurant near the Roosevelt boulevard and had a hearty meal. Here the doctor allowed to see the friends of Bricker's friends to hold him in New York on a writ of habeas corpus.

After he had finished a meal of soft-shelled crabs and steak, Dr. Bricker started to talk freely.

"Fortune invested in South America," Dr. Bricker said, "because they were hounding me to death. I'm a well-served man of fifty-seven years, and have always taken excellent care of my health. Even if I have to do the four years of my sentence, in the event that my friends do not come to my rescue, I firmly believe that I will be able to undergo such a confinement, and come out and take up where I left off the large business interests that I am connected with in South America."

Dr. Bricker said that he had been in Philadelphia virtually all his life. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Society of Colonial Dames, at her Chester home. She gave some time to the invited male guests, and was snapped as she danced on the lawn with Colonel Charles H. Paine.

Adjectives Too Strong

Maybe, Sims Admits

Continued from Page One

He would reply today to Secretary Denby's request to inform